Jolien Cremers

Applied statistician bridging the gap between mathematical statistics and applied researchers by bringing new methods to their (potential) users.

Current Position

08/2019 Postdoctoral Researcher, University of Copenhagen / Danmarks Statistik, Copenhagen.
Research aimed at modelling life trajectories in longitudinal data from the Danish population registries.

Experience

02/2019– Research Assistant, University of Copenhagen / Danmarks Statistik,
07/2019 Copenhagen.
Research aimed at modelling life trajectories in longitudinal data from the Danish population registries.

09/2014– PhD Candidate, Utrecht University, Utrecht.
01/2019 Title: One direction? Modelling Circular Data in the Social Sciences using the Embedding Approach.
Promotor: Prof. dr. I. Klugkist
Co-promotor: Prof. dr. H. Hoijtink
Date of defense: 24-05-2019

Research aimed at developing methods for circular data in the social sciences. Tasks include making ideas work in theory (statistical modelling) as well as in practice (developing software, applying methods to real data), speaking at major international conferences, publishing journal articles in peer-reviewed journals, collaborating with applied researchers, giving consultation on statistical methods, teaching and developing methods and statistics courses for (under) graduate students and the supervision of thesis students and research assistants.

09/2018– Visiting Scholar, University of Copenhagen, Copenhagen Centre for Social
01/2019 Data Science, Copenhagen.

10/2016– Junior Policy Officer, NWO (The Netherlands Organization for Scientific 03/2017 Research), The Hague.
Tasks included finding reviewers for grant proposals and assisting at the organisation of committee meetings for the evaluation of grant proposals.

2013-2014 Research & Teaching Assistant, Methodology and Statistics department of Utrecht University, Utrecht.
Tasks included teaching a summerschool in multilevel modelling, assisting in the analysis of data from Utrecht University's matching project (large dataset of prospective students of Utrecht University) and developing materials for a research master course in multivariate statistics.

Education

2012–2014 MSc., Utrecht University, Utrecht, 4.0/4.0 GPA.
Methodology and Statistics of Behavioral and Social Sciences

2009–2012 BA, University College Roosevelt (Utrecht University), Middelburg, 3.92/4.0 GPA, Summa Cum Laude.
Liberal Arts and Sciences,
Major: Social Science, Tracks: Political Science, Global Studies
Minor: Methods and Statistics

Grants

- Travel Grant from the US National Science Foundation to attend the 11th International Workshop on Objective Bayes Methodology ($ 500)
- Travel support grant for the participation at the ISBA World Meeting 2016, funded bij Google ($ 400)

Research visits

- Prof. dr. Christophe Ley, Department of Applied Mathematics, Computer Science and Statistics, Ghent University, 15-26 January & 28 may - 2 June 2018
- Prof. dr. David Dreyer Lassen, Copenhagen Centre for Social Science Data Science (SODAS), University of Copenhagen, September 2018 - January 2019

Teaching

- Methods and Statistics Consultation Shop, 2014 – present, consultations for BSc. and MSc. students and PhD candidates of the faculty of social sciences
- Research Master course in Multivariate Methods, 2016 – 2018, course development & lectures
- Summer School in Statistical Programming with R (part of Data Science track), 2015 – 2017, lectures & computer practicals
- Master thesis Inge Jansen, 2016 – 2017, supervision
- Introductory Methods and Statistics course (1st year bachelor), 2014 – 2016, seminars/study groups and computer practicals
- Research Master course in Multilevel Modeling, 2014 – 2016, lectures & computer practicals
- Course in Multilevel Modelling for the Dutch-Flemish Postgraduate School 'Experimental Psychopathology' (EPP), 2015, computer practicals
- Summer School in Multilevel Modeling, 2013, computer practicals

Courses

- Social Data Science, Summerschool 2018, University of Copenhagen, Aug 13 - Sept 1 2018
- Bayesian Clinical Trials, Summerschool on Advanced Bayesian Methods, KU Leuven, Sept 14-15 2017
- Meta-Analysis, IOPS PhD student course, 1 EC, June 27-29 2016
- Optimization and Numerical Methods, IOPS PhD student course, 2 EC, November 18-19 2015

- Advising on Research Methods, IOPS PhD student course, 3 EC, March 2015
- What is Psychometrics?, IOPS PhD student course, 2 EC, February 17-19 2015
- The Middle East in Global Politics, London School of Economics (LSE) summerschool, 7.5 EC, July 2011
